Microsoft Certified Technology Specialist (MCTS): SQL Server 2008 Business Intelligence Development and Maintenance

The Microsoft Certified Technology Specialist (MCTS) certification is for professionals who want to demonstrate in-depth knowledge and expertise in their specialised technologies. Earn multiple MCTS certifications to help show your breadth of expertise across different products, or pursue just one certification. As the foundation of SQL certification, the MCTS certification is a prerequisite for earning the Microsoft Certified IT Professional (MCITP) certification.

This certification is aimed at professionals who wish to validate their skills in working with SQL Server 2008 and performing database administrator tasks: installing, configuring and maintaining.
