Microsoft Certified Technology Specialist (MCTS): SQL Server 2008 Database Development

The Microsoft Certified Technology Specialist (MCTS) certification is for professionals who want to demonstrate in-depth knowledge and expertise in their specialised technologies. Earn multiple MCTS certifications to help show your breadth of expertise across different products, or pursue just one certification. As the foundation of SQL certification, the MCTS certification is a prerequisite for earning the Microsoft Certified IT Professional (MCITP) certification.

This certification is aimed at professionals who wish to validate their skills in working with SQL Server 2008, write application code against systems that run SQL Server 2008, write T-SQL or Microsoft .NET CLR code that runs inside SQL Server 2008 or develop solutions in SQL Server 2008.
